The Juan Lara Scholarship recipient is a student who has demonstrated outstanding growth and academic success brought about by involvement in a community college honors program. Candidates for this award have also been nominated by their honors program directors or coordinators for the Exceptional Achievement Scholarship, the criteria for which include:

1. Evidence of excellence or extraordinary improvement in scholarship, especially if related to performance in an honors/scholars program.
2. Progress toward specified personal goals or objectives, especially if accompanied by evidence of extraordinary commitment or perseverance in overcoming specified obstacles to success in college and/or in an honors/scholars program.
3. Extracurricular service to college or community, or extraordinary involvement in athletic or cultural activities, especially in leadership roles.

In conferring this award, we also honor Juan Lara, Assistant Vice Chancellor Emeritus of UC Irvine, a generous supporter of this conference and our efforts to serve community college honors students.
